

THE KITCHEN

Video Music Dance Performance Film Literature

FEBRUARY 13-19, 1991

Cold Comfort
John Kelly at The Kitchen

John Kelly's Maybe It's Cold Outside is his first group project since the 1988 Bessie-winning Find My Way Home. Through film, dance and song, it follows five children as they dream and grow into adulthood. An artful, moody meditation on loss and survival, it's Kelly's personal "exorcism" of public apathy towards the AIDS epidemic. At The Kitchen Thurs.-Sun., Feb. 14-17 and Weds.-Sun., Feb. 20-24 at 8:30, with 3 p.m. matinees on Sundays. (512 W. 19th St., 255-5793.)
—Amy Eddings