MARIA HASSABI (Wednesday through Nov. 9) The premiere of a work carries heightened expectations, for artist and audience. In the aptly titled “Premiere,” presented as part of the Performa 13 festival, Maria Hassabi examines this baggage, an inevitable component of any performing art. Five simultaneous solos zoom in on the minute details of movement, evoking the kind of scrutiny that accompanies the debut of new work. At 8 p.m., the Kitchen, 512 West 19th Street, Chelsea, (212) 255-5793, thekitchen.org; $15, $12 for students and 65+. (Schaefer)
