

The New York Times

Movies | Performances

Weekend Arts

January 10, 2014

Dance

★ HEATHER KRAVAS (Friday through Monday) Obsessiveness can hold an artist back, but not so with Heather Kravas, who devises riveting situations — and sometimes unnerving images — through compulsive repetition. Cheerleading, Greek folk dance and classical ballet are a few of the systems she deconstructs in her new work, “a quartet,” part of Performance Space 122’s Coil Festival. Her composer here, Dana Wachs (also known as Vorhees), plays live for the four excellent dancers: Oren Barnoy, Cecilia Eliceche, Jennifer Kjos and Liz Santoro. Friday and Sunday at 5 p.m., Saturday at 10 p.m., Monday at 8 p.m., the Kitchen, 512 West 19th Street, Chelsea, (212) 255-5793, Ext. 11, thekitchen.org; $20, $16 for students and 65+. (Burke)