

Miranda July:
*THINGS WE DON'T UNDERSTAND AND
DEFINITELY ARE NOT GOING TO TALK ABOUT*

March 1-4 (Thursday-Sunday) 8pm
Tickets $15

Filmmaker, performance artist, and writer Miranda July returns to The Kitchen to present her new multi-media performance piece THINGS WE DON'T UNDERSTAND AND DEFINITELY ARE NOT GOING TO TALK ABOUT, a tale of heartbreak and obsession that is so familiar you could tell it yourself. In fact, members of audience play lead and supporting roles in the performance. This work is also a look inside July's filmmaking process; her next feature film revolves around the same themes and characters.

July first received critical acclaim in New York for her performances at The Kitchen, Swan Too! (2001) and Love Diamond (2000). Most recently, she is best known as the writer and director of her feature length film Me and You and Everyone We Know (2005), which won a special jury prize at the Sundance Film Festival and four prizes at the Cannes Film Festival, including the Camera d'Or for best first feature film. Her stories have been published in The Paris Review, McSweeney's and The New Yorker, and a collection of stories, No One Belongs Here More Than You, will be published in May 2007.

This show is made possible with generous support from The Andy Warhol Foundation for the Visual Arts and with public funds from the New York State Council on the Arts, a state agency.
