

to get it you have to be alive

New York's
most daring
and influential spoken-word
artists
push sense
and sound
into untraveled

anarchic
to the
ecstatic,
creating
poetry
for the modern ear.

Texty the Clown

: the inner meaning of language in the poet-modern ear :

A SERIES AT THE KITCHEN CURATED BY
EDWIN TORRES AND EMILY XYZ

THE KITCHEN
512 West 19th Street
(bet. 10th & 11th Aves.)

tickets by phone
212.255.5793

OCTOBER 20, 7 pm:

EDWIN TORRES and drummer SEAN G. MEEHAN'S intricate cablings of word-music, rhythm and otherworldliness; EMILY XYZ, MYERS BARTLETT and drummer VIRGIL MOOREFIELD open the poetic and acoustic floodgates. $12

NOVEMBER 24, 7 pm:

MIKE TYLER reflecting truth-by-destruction from the world's stage; GINA BONATI'S organic

DECEMBER 17, 8 pm:

TRACIE MORRIS elevates
the inner music to the outer hear;
XAVIER CAVAZOS weaves
a vortex through earth and desire. $12

JANUARY 26, 7 pm:

PAUL SKIFF blazing language from the center of the edge; SEKOU SUNDIATA revolting