

Performing Arts

The Kitchen Tour

9 pm
Wednesday, 9 June
First Avenue
29 N. Seventh Street
$5 (WAC members,
senior citizens $4)

8 pm
Thursday, 10 June
Auditorium
$5 (WAC members,
senior citizens $4)

Package ticket for both nights $8
(WAC members, senior citizens $6)

During the past ten years, The Kitchen has maintained a solid reputation as New York's foremost showcase for experimental avant-garde music, video, dance, and performance art. Now, in celebration of its first decade of groundbreaking presentations,

The Kitchen is going on the road, bringing an eclectic potpourri of talent to the Twin Cities for two very special evenings of diverse and thought-provoking fun.

Performances will include: the rappin' and breakin' of Fab Five Freddy, New York graffiti artist and inspiration for Blondie's Rapture; the irresistibly driving hybrid of reggae, funk and jazz purveyed by Oliver Lake & Jump-Up; the searing apocalyptic roar of Glenn Branca and his guitar army; the whimsical and acrobatic percussion of David Van Tieghem; the skewed performance art/stand-up comedy routine of Eric Bogosian; the pure kinetics of dancer Lisa Fox; and the future rock of Julia Heyward and her revolutionary group, T-Venus (which features members of the Raybeats and 8-Eyed Spy).

Each night's show will be completely different. The first will be a full-blown extravaganza in the main room of First Avenue; the second will be in the intimacy of the Walker Auditorium. The Kitchen Tour brings together a cross-section of today's finest young performers and the two events offer an unforgettable look at the arts of tomorrow.

"Frosty Freeze" of Fab Five Freddy and Friends

