

The SHORT LIST

VOICE November 22, 1994

GLENN BRANCA: You may be able to hear Branca's latest two symphonies for multiple electric guitars (his 8th and 10th) simply by being within a few blocks of the Kitchen. But what could be more glorious than bathing in his mystically swirling counterpoint, letting the vibrations reconfigure your molecular structure as you adjust your earplugs ever tighter? Seriously, he's reached a new plateau of sophistication with these works. November 16 through 20, the Kitchen, 512 West 19th Street, 255-5793. (Gann)
