SHEER HEAVEN A PLAY BY ERIC BOGOSIAN

January 29&30 8:30 & 10:00 pm The Kitchen Center, 59 Wooster

$3.50/$2 members/ TDF Theater Reervations 925-3615

On January 29 & 30 at 8:30 & 10 pm, The Kitchen Center will present Sheer Heaven, a play conceived and directed by Eric Bogosian. Admission is $3.50/$2 members or TDF Theater Voucher. Call 925-3615 for reservations.

SHEER HEAVEN is a short play in New York Spanish, ½ hour in duration with 5 scenes.

SHEER HEAVEN is designed to be watched and heard. It cannot be translated into literature. All dialogue is in Spanish. Physical movement, lighting and sound create the dynamics of the play. The 5 scenes are 1) Television, 2) Fight, 3) Love Scene, 4) Drugs, 5) Party.

SHEER HEAVEN is loosely styled after Jack Gelber's classic beatnik play, The Connection, about a group of jazz musicians addicted to heroin. Sheer Heaven is about waiting for something.

Eric Bogosian has presented performances at Artists Space, Franklin Furnace, Saint Mark's Church, 112 Workshop, Hallwalls (Buffalo) and Eventworks (Boston). He is currently appearing throughout Manhattan with The Ricky Paul Show, starring Ricky Paul and Barbie Allen with Joe "Hanky" Hannan and The Nips.
