URBAN BUSH WOMEN: Jawole Willa Jo Zollar, a tiny dynamo who plumbs every aspect of diasporic African American culture in her dance-theater works, offers the New York premiere of LifeDance III... The Empress (Womb Wars), part of a personalized odyssey through the tarot, April 29 through May 1 and May 5 through 8 at 8:30; and an expanded version of her pop-lively I Don't Know But I've Been Told, If You Keep On Dancin' You'll Never Grow Old, featuring community drill teams, double dutchers, and steppers in addition to the seven Bush Women, May 2 and 9 at 3. The Kitchen, 512 West 19th Street, 255-5793. (Zimmer)
