ADRIENNE TRUSCOTT (Saturday and Sunday, Wednesday and Thursday; through Dec. 15) Hurricane Sandy all but demolished the ground floor of the Kitchen. Remarkably, the theater is already back up and running, presenting the premiere of Ms. Truscott's "... Too Freedom ...," an improvisational solo with some unexpected guests. The provocative dancer-choreographer (who also travels in neo-burlesque circles as one-half of the Wau Wau Sisters) will be joined by wage laborers from various lines of work, as she dissects codes of human interaction and self-presentation. At 8 p.m., the Kitchen, 512 West 19th Street, Chelsea, (212) 255-5793, Ext. 11, thekitchen.org; $15 or $12 for students and 65+. (Burke)
