

The New York Times
Arts & Leisure

THE NEW YORK TIMES, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1993
ARTS AND LEISURE GUIDE

T H E A T E R

(Approximate running times are given at end of Broadway and Off Broadway listings.)

Recent Openings

Performance Art

ATLANTIC THEATER COMPANY — Deb Margolin's "Of Mice, Bugs and Women." 336 W. 20th St. (645-1242) Thur.-Fri., 8.

BLUE MAN GROUP — "Tubes," with Matt Goldman, Phil Stanton and Chris Wink. The actors "explore the furthest reaches of action comedy. . . . For the intrepid theatergoer, the show can be a performance pigout." (Gus-sow) Astor Place, 434 Lafayette St. (254-4370) Sun., 5; Tues.-Thur., 8; Fri.-Sat., 7 and 10.

CASTILLO CULTURAL CENTER — Nora Cole's "Olivia's Opus," a multi-media play set in the 1960's. 500 Greenwich St. (941-1234) Thur.-Sat., 8; Sun., 3. Through next Sun.

DIXON PLACE — Fri., 8: "Keep Up Wit' the Jones," comedy with Stephanie Jones, Suzanne Jones and others. At 10:30: The Alien Comic. Sat., 8: Greg Walloch's "White Disabled Talent"; Linda Mancini. 258 Bowery (219-3088)

DOWNTOWN ART COMPANY — "Lenora Champagne and Friends," solo performances. 64 E. Fourth St. (732-1227) Wed.-Sat., Sun., 5. Through Oct. 30.

THE KITCHEN — Greg Mehrten stars in the Ron Vawter and Marianne Weems production of "Queer and Alone," an adaptation of James Strahs's novel. With Eilion Sacker and Ann Rower; Lola Pashalinski appears on videotape. 512 W. 19th St. (255-5793) Previews Thur.-Fri. Opens Sat. Thur.-next Sun., 9:30. Through Nov. 7.

THE MAGIC OF CZECH PUPPETRY — Thur.-Sun., 7: "Johannes Dokhtor Faust," performed by the Czechoslovak-American Marionette Theater; featuring 100-year-old puppets. Sat.-Sun., 3: "Czech Tales and Marionettes," with Vit Horejs. Bohemian National Hall, 321-325 E. 73d St. (777-3891) Through next Sun.

LA MAMA — "Suddenly Something Recklessly Gay, or Cirque de Ca-Ca," written and directed by Assurbanipal Babilla. 74A E. Fourth St. (475-7710) Thur.-Sat., 10. Oct. 23.

P. S. 122 — Thur.-next Sun., 7:30: Gayle Tufts's "I Was Wim Wenders' Love Slave," songs and stories about her adventures in Berlin. Through Oct. 31. Thur.-next Sun., 9: Dendy Dance and Performance in "Fire and Other Works." 150 First Ave., at Ninth St. (477-5288) Through Oct. 31.

TRIBECA LAB — David Nellis's "Power of Apathy." 79 Leonard St. (966-9371) Sun., 4; Sat., 10:30 P.M. Through Nov. 20.

Paula Court/The Kitchen

Greg Mehrten stars in Ron Vawter and Marianne Weems's production of "Queer and Alone," which opens on Saturday at the Kitchen.